Contents
Key problems in practical theology and discussion of different fields of ecclesial and religious activity from the point of view of the discipline. Approaches and methods in practical theology and their implications in particular situations involving particular individuals and issues.

Intended learning outcomes
At the end of the course, students will have become familiar with the principles of the philosophy of science that underlie practical theology and will have learned different methods in the discipline. They will have become familiar with the fundamental structures and forms of liturgical celebrations, the structures and fields of canon law, the basic forms of pastoral activity of the Church in today's society, and the fundamental principles of religious education. Applying what they have learned during the course, students will be able to solve problems in practical theology.
