Module description

Module coordinator         Module offered by           Institute of Historical Theology and the Institute of Practical Theology         Faculty of Catholic Theology           ECTS         Method of grading         Only after succ. compl. of module(s)           11         numerical grade            2 semester         undergraduate         Recommended: Certified Ancient Greek and Latin language skills.           Contents         The richness of Christian spirituality and piety. Discussion of the different forms they have taken throughout hi- story and ways to analyse them in the context of today's society. Insights into theories on the activities of the Church as well as into the different types of Christian community and communication of Christian faith (sacra- ments, the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation           • historical forms of Christian spirituality         • celebrating sacraments           • the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation         • form sor practising faith           • religious education in the context of pluralism         Module assessment will either be held under the responsibility and in special consideration of the subject of ca- non law or the subject of pastoral theology; assessment will cover all courses of the module.           Intended learning outcomes         At the end of the course, students will have gained an insight into the richness of Christian piety and the diverse ways in which christians live and lived their faith. They will know how they originated and will have become aware of the fact that the Aurch today is ocolety that is	Module title			Abbreviation
Institute of Historical Theology and the Institute of Practical Faculty of Catholic Theology           ECTS         Method of grading         Only after succ. compL. of module(s)           11         numerical grade         -           Duration         Module level         Other prerequisites           2 semester         undergraduate         Recommended: Certified Ancient Greek and Latin language skills.           Contemts         The richness of Christian spirituality and piety. Discussion of the different forms they have taken throughout hi- story and ways to analyse them in the context of today's society. Insights into theories on the activities of the Church as well as into the different types of Christian community and communication of Christian faith (sacra- ments, the teaching office and the basic functions of the Church, learning processes in religious education).           Courses:         •           •         het teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation •           •         the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation •           •         the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation •           •         the teaching office of the Church and the tar to responsibility and in special consideration of the subject of ca- non law or the subject of pastoral theology; assessment will cover all courses of the module.           Intended learning outcomes         •         •           At the end of the course, students will have gained an insight into the richness of Christian piety and the di	Dimensions and performance of faith 01-M11-211-m01
Theology       Only after succ. compl. of module(s)         ECTS       Method of grading       Only after succ. compl. of module(s)         11       numerical grade          Duration       Module level       Other prerequisites         2 semester       undergraduate       Recommended: Certified Ancient Greek and Latin language skills.         Contents       The richness of Christian spirituality and piety. Discussion of the different forms they have taken throughout hi- story and ways to analyse them in the context of foday's society. Insights into theories on the activities of the Church as well as into the different types of Christian community and communication of Christian faith (sacra- ments, the teaching office and the basic functions of the Church, learning processes in religious education). Courses:         • historical forms of Christian spirituality       • celebrating sacraments         • the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation       • forms of practising faith         • religious education in the context of pluralism       Module assessment will either be held under the responsibility and in special consideration of the subject of ca- non law or the subject of pastoral theology; assessment will cover all courses of the module.         Intended learning outcomes       Intended learning outcomes         At the end of the course, students will have gained an insight into the richness of Christian piety and the diverse ways in which Christians live and lived their faith. They will know how they originated and will have become awa- norms and situations to	Module coordinator		Module offered by
11       numerical grade          Duration       Module level       Other prerequisites         2 semester       undergraduate       Recommended: Certified Ancient Greek and Latin language skills.         Contents       The richness of Christian spirituality and piely. Discussion of the different forms they have taken throughout hi- story and ways to analyse them in the context of today's society. Insights into theories on the activities of the Church as well as into the different types of Christian community and communication of Christian taith (sacra- ments, the teaching office and the basic functions of the Church, learning processes in religious education).         Courses:       • historical forms of Christian spirituality       • celebrating sacraments         • the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation       • forms of practising faith         • religious education in the context of pluralism       Module assessment will either be held under the responsibility and in special consideration of the subject of canon hav or the subject of patorian field work they originated an will have become aware of the fact that they arose from prevailing circumstances. Students will have developed an awareness of the fact that the Church today is operating in a society that is characterised by diversity and will have become famili- ar with relevant norms. In addition, students will have developed the ability to make use of the tensions between norms and situations to spark their own theological and practical creativity.         Courses (ype, number of weekly contact hours, language – if other than German)       V (1) + V (2) + V (2) + V (2) Module taught in: German <td colspan="5">Institute of Historical Theology and the Institute of Practical Faculty of Catholic Theology Theology</td>	Institute of Historical Theology and the Institute of Practical Faculty of Catholic Theology Theology
Duration         Module level         Other prerequisites           2 semester         undergraduate         Recommended: Certified Ancient Greek and Latin language skills.           Contents         The richness of Christian spirituality and piety. Discussion of the different forms they have taken throughout hi- story and ways to analyse them in the context of today's society. Insights into theories on the activities of the Church as well as into the different types of Christian community and communication of Christian faith (sacra- ments, the teaching office and the basic functions of the Church, learning processes in religious education). Courses:           • historical forms of Christian spirituality         celebrating sacraments           • the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation         forms of practising faith           • religious education in the context of pluralism         Module assessment will either be held under the responsibility and in special consideration of the subject of ca- non law or the subject of pastoral theology; assessment will course all courses of the module.           Intendel learning outcomes         At the end of the course, students will have gained an insight into the richness of Christian piety and the diverse ways in which Christians live and lived their faith. They will know how they originated and will have become famili- ar with relevant norms. In addition, students will have developed tha awareness of the fact that the Church today is operating in a society that is characterised by diversity and will have become famili- ar with relevant norms. In addition, students will have developed the ability to make use of the tensions between norms and situations to spark their own theologica	ECTS Method of grading Only after succ. con		pl. of module(s)
2 semester       undergraduate       Recommended: Certified Ancient Greek and Latin language skills.         Contents       The richness of Christian spirituality and piety. Discussion of the different forms they have taken throughout history and ways to analyse them in the context of today's society. Insights into theories on the activities of the Church as well as into the different types of Christian community and communication of Christian faith (sacraments, the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation         • historical forms of Christian spirituality       • celebrating sacraments         • the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation       • forms of practising faith         • religious education in the context of pluralism       Module assessment will either be held under the responsibility and in special consideration of the subject of canon law or the subject of pastoral theology; assessment will cover all courses of Christian piety and the diverse ways in which Christians live and lived their faith. They will know how they originated and will have become aware of the fact that they arose from prevailing circumstances. Students will have developed an awareness of the fact that the varose from prevailing circumstances. Students will have developed an awareness of the fact that the varose from prevailing circumstances. Students will have use of the tensions between norms and situations to spark their own theological and practical creativity.         Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language – if other than German)       V (1) + V (2) + V (2) + V (2) + V (2)         Module assessment (type, scope, language – if other than German, examination offered – if not every senester, information on w	11 numerical grade
Contents         The richness of Christian spirituality and piety. Discussion of the different forms they have taken throughout history and ways to analyse them in the context of today's society. Insights into theories on the activities of the Church and well as into the different types of Christian community and communication of Christian faith (scaraments, the teaching office and the basic functions of the Church, learning processes in religious education). Courses: <ul> <li>historical forms of Christian spirituality</li> <li>celebrating sacraments</li> <li>the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation</li> <li>forms of practising faith</li> <li>religious education in the context of puralism</li> </ul> Module assessment will either be held under the responsibility and in special consideration of the subject of canon law or the subject of pastoral theology; assessment will cover all courses of the module.           Intended learning outcomes           At the end of the course, students will have gained an insight into the richness of Christian piety and the diverse ways in which Christians live and lived their faith. They will know how they originated and will have become familiar with relevant norms. In addition, students will have developed the ability to make use of the tensions between norms and situations to spark their own theological and practical creativity.           Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language – if other than German) <li>V (1) + V (2) + V (2) + V (2)</li> <li>V (2) + V (2) + V (2)</li> <li>V (2) + V (2) + V (2)</li> <li>V (2) + V (2) + V (2)</li> <li>Y (2) + V (2) + V (2)</li> <li>Y (2) + V (2) + V (2)</li>	Duration Module level	Other prerequisites
The richness of Christian spirituality and piety. Discussion of the different forms they have taken throughout hi- story and ways to analyse them in the context of today's society. Insights into theories on the activities of the Church as well as into the different types of Christian community and communication of Christian faith (sacra- ments, the teaching office and the basic functions of the Church, learning processes in religious education). Courses: • historical forms of Christian spirituality • celebrating sacraments • the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation • forms of practising faith • religious education in the context of pluralism Module assessment will either be held under the responsibility and in special consideration of the subject of ca- non law or the subject of pastoral theology; assessment will cover all courses of the module. Intended learning outcomes At the end of the course, students will have gained an insight into the richness of Christian piety and the diverse ways in which Christians live and lived their faith. They will know how they originated and will have become famili- are of the fact that they arose from prevailing circumstances. Students will have developed an awareness of the fact that the Church today is operating in a society that is characterised by diversity and will have become famili- ar with relevant norms. In addition, students will have developed the ability to make use of the tensions between norms and situations to spark their own theological and practical creativity. Courses (type, number of weeky contact hours, language – if other than German) V (1) + V (2) + V (2) + V (2) + V (2) Wodule taught in: German Method of assessment (type, scope, language – if other than German, examination offered – if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus) a) Written examination (approx. 25 minutes) or c) Essays (approx. 12 pages total) Language of assessment: German Allocation of places 	2 semester undergraduate	Recommended: Certified Ancient Greek and Latin language skills.
story and ways to analyse them in the context of today's society. Insights into theories on the activities of the Church as well as into the different types of Christian community and communication of Christian faith (sacra- ments, the teaching office and the basic functions of the Church, learning processes in religious education). Courses: • historical forms of Christian spirituality • celebrating sacraments • the teaching office of the Church and the law of sacramental initiation • forms of practising faith • religious education in the context of pluralism Module assessment will either be held under the responsibility and in special consideration of the subject of ca- non law or the subject of pastoral theology; assessment will cover all courses of the module. Intended learning outcomes At the end of the course, students will have gained an insight into the richness of Christian piety and the diverse ways in which Christians live and lived their faith. They will know how they originated and will have become awa- re of the fact that they arose from prevailing circumstances. Students will have developed an awareness of the fact that the Auroch today is operating in a society that is characterised by diversity and will have become famili- ar with relevant norms. In addition, students will have developed the ability to make use of the tensions between norms and situations to spark their own theological and practical creativity. Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language – if other than German) V (1) + V (2) + V (2) + V (2) Module taught in: German Method of assessment : (type, scope, language – if other than German, examination offered – if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus) a) Written examination (approx. 25 minutes) or b) oral examination (approx. 25 minutes) or c) Essays (approx. 12 pages total) Language of assessment: German Additional information The module examination is carried out optionally under the responsibility and	Contents
V (1) + V (2) + V (2) + V (2) + V (2) Module taught in: German Method of assessment (type, scope, language – if other than German, examination offered – if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus) a) Written examination (approx. 90 minutes) or b) oral examination (approx. 25 minutes) or c) Essays (approx. 12 pages total) Language of assessment: German Allocation of places  Additional information The module examination is carried out optionally under the responsibility and with special consideration of the subject Canon Law or the subject Pastoral Theology; it covers all courses of the module. Workload 330 h	Church as well as into the different typments, the teaching office and the bas Courses: <ul> <li>historical forms of Christian spiri</li> <li>celebrating sacraments</li> <li>the teaching office of the Church</li> <li>forms of practising faith</li> <li>religious education in the contex</li> </ul> <li>Module assessment will either be held non law or the subject of pastoral theo</li> <li>Intended learning outcomes</li> <li>At the end of the course, students will ways in which Christians live and lived re of the fact that they arose from prevalar with relevant norms. In addition, stunorms and situations to spark their owned.</li>	es of Christian comm ic functions of the Ch tuality and the law of sacran t of pluralism under the responsib logy; assessment wil have gained an insig their faith. They will l ailing circumstances. in a society that is ch dents will have devel n theological and pra	unity and communic urch, learning proces mental initiation ility and in special co cover all courses of nt into the richness of know how they origin Students will have of aracterised by diver oped the ability to m ctical creativity.	ation of Christian faith (sacra- sses in religious education). Onsideration of the subject of ca- the module. Of Christian piety and the diverse nated and will have become awa- leveloped an awareness of the sity and will have become famili-Module taught in: German Method of assessment (type, scope, language – if other than German, examination offered – if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus) a) Written examination (approx. 90 minutes) or b) oral examination (approx. 25 minutes) or c) Essays (approx. 12 pages total) Language of assessment: German Allocation of places Additional information The module examination is carried out optionally under the responsibility and with special consideration of the subject Canon Law or the subject Pastoral Theology; it covers all courses of the module. Workload 330 h		anguage — If other than Ger	man) module is creditable for bonus) a) Written examination (approx. 90 minutes) or b) oral examination (approx. 25 minutes) or c) Essays (approx. 12 pages total) Language of assessment: German Allocation of places Additional information The module examination is carried out optionally under the responsibility and with special consideration of the subject Canon Law or the subject Pastoral Theology; it covers all courses of the module. Workload 330 h
b) oral examination (approx. 25 minutes) or c) Essays (approx. 12 pages total) Language of assessment: German Allocation of places  Additional information The module examination is carried out optionally under the responsibility and with special consideration of the subject Canon Law or the subject Pastoral Theology; it covers all courses of the module. Workload 330 h
The module examination is carried out optionally under the responsibility and with special consideration of the subject Canon Law or the subject Pastoral Theology; it covers all courses of the module. Workload 330 h	a) Written examination (approx. 90 minutes) or b) oral examination (approx. 25 minutes) or c) Essays (approx. 12 pages total) Language of assessment: German Allocation of places
The module examination is carried out optionally under the responsibility and with special consideration of the subject Canon Law or the subject Pastoral Theology; it covers all courses of the module. Workload 330 h
subject Canon Law or the subject Pastoral Theology; it covers all courses of the module. Workload 330 h	Additional information
330 h
	Workload
Tooshing such	330 h
	Teaching cycle

Module description

Referred to in LPO I (examination regulations for teaching-degree programmes)

Module appears in

--

Magister Theologiae Catholic Theology (2021)

JMU Würzburg • generated 29.03.2024 • Module data record 130748