| Intended learning outcomes | | |
| At the end of the course, students will have gained an overview of the history of philosophy from antiquity to the present. They will have become familiar with the main branches of philosophy as well as problems and methods in those branches. They will have developed the ability to interrelate the knowledge they have developed with the Christian understanding of the world, of the human person, and of God and will thus be able to engage in discussions about world views with the people of today. | | |
