Contents
An introduction to the identity of practical theology as an empirically-oriented discipline. The courses situate the methods in the discipline within the context of standard philosophies of science; they discuss different research methods as well as their advantages and limitations. The courses use examples from research conducted at the Chair or other institutions to illustrate the matter discussed.

Intended learning outcomes
At the end of the module, students will have become familiar with key theories in an empirically informed practical theology and will have gained an insight into current findings from empirical research. They will have gained an overview of essential methods of empirical research and will have achieved basic proficiency in these methods.
