Contents
The Bachelor's thesis consists of an independently written research paper addressing a specific problem within the field of ancient Near Eastern studies, which utilises scholarly methods and is completed within the time frame stipulated by ASPO (general academic and examination regulations). In the case of a Bachelor's with two majors, the Bachelor's thesis can be of an interdisciplinary nature addressing a problem related to both fields. The topic will be selected in consultation with the thesis supervisor or, in the case of an interdisciplinary thesis, with the two supervisors.
Intended learning outcomes
The student will acquire the ability to address a specific problem within the field of ancient Near Eastern studies, using scholarly methods, and to present his/her results in an appropriate written form.
