Contents
This module studies the human being in its relationship to its music as one of the most important cultural components as well as the mutual relationship between music producers, recipients and musical products. In particular, the different musical concepts, musical actions, physical, psychological, verbal, symbolic and social behaviour and musical manifestations will be covered.
Intended learning outcomes
The student is able to theorise and exemplarily explain the reciprocity of music, music production and music reception. He/she has acquired music conceptual, psychological, sociological, semantic and action-theoretical competences, weighted differently depending on the specific subject, in order to systematically describe the connection between people and music.
