Introduction to literary studies. Students can choose between the introduction to English or American literary studies. The English Studies provide students with basics of literature science-based theory and methodology as well as with basics skills in literary history of the British Isles. Moreover, due to the introduction to English literature, students will gain insights into new anglophone literatures. In order to apply these skills, students will practise the analysis and interpretation of selected texts of all literary genres from the early modern era up to the present. The American Studies introduce to the techniques of literature interpretation as well as to central literary theories and methods, by providing an example of the US-American literature and referring to all literary genres.
Intended learning outcomes
Students will be provided with specific basic knowledge and literary methodology, with the ability to apply literary theories and methods to the text analysis, basic knowledge of historical and idea-historical backgrounds and developments. After successful completion of the module, students are able to analyse, understand and evaluate literary and literary-historical phenomena with the terminology of the English or American literature.
