"Language change": In this module, specific topics of diachronic linguistics are considered in detail. In this context, phenomena of language change in history and present on all levels of linguistic description as well as their linguistic modelling are subject of discussion.
Intended learning outcomes
After attending the module, students will be able to discuss specific current issues in diachronic linguistics and to investigate them scientifically. Students will acquire the ability to identify phenomena of language change within concrete linguistic data and to analyse them in the view of current linguistic theories and in the context of social and cultural processes.
