Contents
The module is designed to provide students with a basic overview as well as a generic consolidation of the interpretation of archaeological discoveries and evidences of neighbouring civilisations of Greeks and Romans, which are historico-cultural evidences and will be considered from an anthropological, sociological and art-scientific point of view.
Intended learning outcomes
The students are able to classify, analyse and interpret material legacies according to their historico-cultural relevance. They are able to process a given issue according to scientific standards and can deal with the respective anthropological, sociological and art-scientific specialised literature critically as well as to present the different positions of research.
