Contents
Master's thesis: With the help of academic methods, students will deal with a specific problem within a fixed period of time, which is determined by the ASPO. In the case of a Master with two main disciplines, an issue can be given that covers a problem, which affects both main disciplines interdisciplinarily. The topic is to be agreed upon with an authorised examiner or, in the case of an interdisciplinary thesis, 2 authorised examiners. Final oral examination: The candidates will draw up two Latin issues. Usually, two main topics that are proposed by the candidate, will be agreed upon with an authorised examiner (which will consist of one author of Latin prose literature and one author of Latin poetry). The basic selection of publications and academic literature will be agreed between the candidate and examiner. The oral examination focuses on the translation ability, technical knowledge and its academical classification as well as on an appropriate representation in words.
Intended learning outcomes
Master's thesis: Students are able to work on a specific issue of Latin Philology with the help of academic methods and they are able to present their results in writing appropriately. Final oral examination: The candidate is expected to have a comprehensive linguistic and contentual knowledge of selected issues. The candidate is able to understand, classify and critically apply the skills that have already been acquired, adequately and academically. The candidate is able to translate a text passage competently, to reply to questions in free speech and to contribute to an academic and professional exchange during a dialogue competently.
