Contents
The module focuses on dissonance harmony of the 18th and 19th centuries: chord and voice leading, tetrads, the most important chord alterations used since about 1750. Step and function theory are used in parallel as theoretical paradigms. The theory and practice of modulation as well as its application within the framework of binary composition forms and the sonata form open the view to further-reaching connections. In the associated exercise, typical individual cases from the literature are discussed comprehensively.
Intended learning outcomes
The student is able to recognise and describe harmonic progressions; The student becomes acquainted with more complicated harmonic phenomena of the 19th century.
