Contents
The module provides a basic dealing with further central tasks of the museum: the examination and documentation of museum objects. Students will acquire knowledge of the most important materials and forms that are frequent in the daily life of a museum. In addition, the module is designed to teach techniques, principles and practices of object documentation and inventory.

Intended learning outcomes
Students are able to determine materials and types and to use the correct term, which is the basis of each scientific activity with objects of a museum. Students are familiar with all work steps of documentation and inventory as well as with the different ways and possibilities of further research concerning museum objects.
