In this module we study central teaching concepts and models of the didactics of physical education games on the basis of general ball sports and use examples from the field of net/wall games to further examine these concepts and models. We test our knowledge about the didactics of physical education games in practice in accordance with differentiated guidelines regarding performance and teaching.
Intended learning outcomes
The students acquire advanced professional skills in the area of teaching physical education games, especially in net/wall games. They learn about the principles of various didactic approaches to physical education games. They use examples from the field of net/wall games (e.g. volleyball) to evaluate and reflect these principles in view of the teaching topic. By combining theory and practice, the students are able to break away from everyday theories and pre-scientific knowledge about teaching sports and physical education games. Their theoretical knowledge about subject didactics enables them to evaluate phenomena, structures and teaching topics of sports. They examine the basics of a selected approach that is suitable for the requirements of an exemplary movement field. In doing so, they become able to transfer their knowledge as well as methods of game analysis and methods of teaching physical education games to other physical education games or other game topics. As a result, the students become acquainted with a variety of didactic approaches to teaching sports which they can apply and evaluate in practice.
