Contents
Media psychology deals with human experiences and behaviour while interacting with media. Media psychology develops theories and tests these in empirical studies. This introductory module aims to equip students with fundamental knowledge about the subject of media psychology (e. g. traditional media and mass media) as well as its theories, findings, and methods. The module focuses on the introduction to <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>the subject itself, theories, and findings of media psychology</li> <li>research fields and current problems in media psychology</li> <li>methods in media psychology.</li> </ol>
Intended learning outcomes
Students should be familiar with central concepts and methods of media psychology. They should have a basic knowledge of the subject-specific questions and should understand the relevance and importance of a psychological perspective as well as the relevance of questions in the field of the social sciences. Thus, a basis is provided for academic work as well as for acquiring practically relevant (vocationally oriented) media skills.
