Contents
This course lays the scientific groundwork for the occupational activities of psychologists. It discusses the requirements and implementation possibilities of correct decision making, target-oriented action and efficient work in view of Industrial Psychology, Cognitive Psychology and Social Psychology. The students acquire advanced competencies in applying psychological knowledge in order to achieve different organisational goals in a profitable manner (e.g. personnel selection, efficient communication, working atmosphere, decision making, workplace design, organisation of tasks etc.).
Intended learning outcomes
The students acquire advanced basic knowledge of questions of Cognition and Social Psychology and advanced application-oriented knowledge of questions of Industrial and Organisational Psychology. They learn about the relevance of theories and concepts such as (social) perception, interaction, motivation, action control, multiple requirements etc. for analysing and improving the conditions of work and communication. The students acquire advanced knowledge which enables them to develop evidence-based solution approaches for practical problems in companies and organisations.
