| In this module we discuss, evaluate and apply basic competencies of sport didactics and basic teaching/learning conceptions of playing, physical education games and movement fields for teams. We study the basics of playing as well as concepts of integrative and special didactics of physical education games and apply them in basketball, volleyball and handball. We focus on acquiring basic movement and perception competencies in physical education games as well as basics of subject didactics in various settings for teams (with and without a ball, target throwing and net/wall games, size of the playing field and number of players) as well as for different groups (including age, gender, individual condition, inclusion). Furthermore, we discuss and evaluate trans-situational and situation-specific aspects of fairness, cooperation and team spirit. The students test and evaluate their knowledge about sport didactics in practice in accordance with differentiated guidelines regarding performance and teaching. |                              |   |
| Intended learning outcomes  |                              |   |
| The students have basic movement and perception competencies in the field of physical education games and know appropriate teaching/learning concepts of playing with and without a ball. They can apply these concepts in the field of team sports or exercise settings for teams. They have basic subject-didactic, pedagogical and motor competencies in the big physical education games handball, basketball and volleyball and are able to appropriately deal with different target groups in these teaching/learning settings. Furthermore, the students have basic competencies in cooperation and interaction.   |                              |   |
