| In this module the students advance and differentiate their teaching/learning competencies in the fields of playing, physical education games and movement fields for teams. They use examples from handball and soccer to extend their movement and perception competencies and their method and teaching competencies in the field of integrative and special didactics of physical education games. They focus on teaching physical education games in an increasingly differentiated, varied manner (education to and through sports) in homogeneous and heterogeneous settings for teams of an increased learning level. Furthermore, they learn how aspects of playing and performance are linked to aspects of cooperation and fairness and how they can be promoted. The students test and evaluate their knowledge about sport didactics in practice in accordance with differentiated guidelines regarding performance and teaching. |                          |   |
| Intended learning outcomes   |                          |   |
| The students have advanced their movement, perception, method and teaching competencies in team sports/exercise settings for teams and are able to transfer these competencies to big physical education games. They have advanced subject-didactic, pedagogical and motor competencies in the big physical education games handball and soccer. Furthermore, they are able to flexibly apply exemplary teaching/learning competencies to team sports and exercise settings for teams whilst taking into account different learning levels and goals (education to and through sports).  |                          |   |
