| This course aims to consolidate the students' theological thinking, expression, and writing skills on the basis of current debates and important texts.   |                          |   |
| Intended learning outcomes   |                          |   |
| At the end of the course, students will have developed a comprehensive knowledge of systematic theology. They will be able to recognise topics in their complex interrelations with all other topics in theology - in particular theories of religion - and to describe them orally and in writing. Students will have adopted a supra-individual position on all topics based on a sharpened awareness of problems and sound arguments. They will be able to interpret topics in theology within the context of current social problems and discuss potential solutions. |                          |   |
