Contents
Discussing primary sources and research literature, this course will convey essentials, methods, and ways of thinking in systematic theology. It will also provide an introduction to theological discussions of, with, and for pupils.
Intended learning outcomes
At the end of the course, students will be familiar with essential concepts and will have developed subject-specific thinking in the area of dogmatics. They will not only be able to comprehend and reproduce theological texts but also to situate them within a context and render them adequately. Students will be able to describe issues in theology for, and together with, pupils as well as to apply their knowledge of systematic theology when they discuss those issues with their pupils.
