Contents
In teams of three, students will supervise a small group of approx. five pupils during a session in the teach'n'learn lab. The experiments they will perform will be based on the traditional and modern methods in biology the students were taught in the module component Biologische Arbeitsmethoden (Methods in Biology). Following written instructions, the pupils will perform experiments on a variety of topics. The students will provide support and advice, will answer questions and will analyse the results of the experiments together with the pupils. This will also require close cooperation with the supervising teacher of the placement class. Students will prepare questionnaires and short evaluations to determine and discuss how effective the session in the teach'n'learn lab was.
