Contents
Principles and technologies for the functionalization of additives and their utilization for the modification of polymers and their properties, interaction between polymers and additives and determination of the particular properties of such functionalized polymers (e.g. electric, bactericidal, flame retardant properties). Also the influence on other properties such as mechanical and rheological properties, color, turbidity and surface finish will be discussed.
Intended learning outcomes
The students possess knowledge on the technologies to functionalize polymeric materials with additives. They know the possibilities and issues regarding of such modifications, the interaction between additives and polymers. Moreover, they are qualified to determine particular properties of functionalized polymers (e.g. flame retardancy) and understand the interactions with other properties of the polymers, such as rheology, mechanical properties, color, turbidity or surface finish.
