Contents
This module discusses specific requirements, concepts and solutions in the area of interactive systems in more detail. A special focus is on systems concentrating on human-computer interaction. Typical examples include graphical user interfaces, web-based solutions or even systems from augmented and virtual reality. The course concentrates on systems in which users and computers form a closed input-output loop and requirements of reactivity and real-time performance are decisive.
Intended learning outcomes
At the end of the course, students will have an advanced knowledge of the requirements of interactivity. They will be able to identify and analyse technical capabilities and properties of today's computer systems with respect to interactivity as well as to derive the necessary actions. Students will have learned to choose appropriate solutions and tools for various development tasks in a broad range of applications. Having been equipped with a theoretical foundation, students will be able to develop alternative solutions for future systems.

Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)
Unless otherwise specified, the following methods can be chosen from for assessment in the specialisations Human-Computer Systems: a) written examination (approx. 90 minutes), b) presentation (approx. 20 minutes) and handout (approx. 5 pages), c) presentation of project results (approx. 30 minutes), d) presentation (approx. 45 minutes), e) oral examination of one candidate each (approx. 30 minutes) or f) term paper (approx. 10 pages). Language of assessment: German and/or English creditable for bonus
