Contents
This module will provide an introduction to the historical book and its cover. It will discuss different materials, production techniques, and design features (e. g. illustrations) as well as major epochs in the history of book production. In addition, the course will explore selected codicological aspects. The course will also discuss aids and search tools for the identification of historical books (e. g. cover databases) as well as specific techniques for the subject indexing of historical book collections.
Intended learning outcomes
Students have gained an overview of the different techniques for the identification of historical book collections. They are familiar with materials, production techniques, and design features from different epochs in the history of book production and are able to use these aspects as criteria for the identification of historical books. Students are able to use specific search tools to identify historical books.
