Contents

This course sets out to give an insight into the different dimensions of emotional intelligence, spontaneity, creativity and imagination in communication and human interaction. Role theory as means of understanding social, interpersonal and intercultural interaction and its limits, Moreno’s theories about spontaneity and creativity, his Action Method techniques, and the importance of ‘warming-up’ to access and unblock spontaneity and creativity will be explored theoretically and ‘in action’. The participants will get to know a wide range of exercises tapping into their creative and imaginative sources to actively train flexible ways of behaviour, reaction and thinking that transcend and break up personal and cultural barriers. The course provides the teacher students at the same time with practical exercises and teaching methods to train these important key skills in a meaningful, structured and effective way in class.

Intended learning outcomes

Upon completing this seminar the students should be able to:
- understand the dimensions and principles of emotional intelligence, creativity and imagination;
- explain and evaluate role theory in developing and understanding flexible interpersonal and intercultural communication;
- understand and explain the principles of the creative process;
- define and explain Moreno’s theories about spontaneity, creativity and ‘warming-up’;
- describe and apply methods for releasing creativity based on Moreno’s Action Method techniques, Psychodrama, Sociometry and various other sources.
