Duration	Module level	Other prerequisites
1 semester	undergraduate	--
Contents
This module introduces students to ethnomusicological study of music-making as social process and cultural phenomenon. The module explores the nature of the relationships between music and society, how sociocultural factors influence music-making, and how music can impact individuals and society. These issues will be examined through case studies of folk/traditional music, popular music, and art music from both Western and non-Western cultures. Topics covered may include, for example, music and identity, music and politics, music and gender, music as commodity, and so on. This module will also provide a basic introduction to the primary research methods in the field of ethnomusicology, including participant observation, interviewing, and fieldwork.
Intended learning outcomes
Upon the successful completion of this module, students should have a basic understanding of how music influences and is influenced by society. They should be able to think critically about the social nature of music-making in their own and other music cultures. They should have a basic understanding of key ethnomusicological research methods.

ECTS	Method of grading	Only after succ. compl. of module(s)
5	numerical grade	--
Duration	Module level	Other prerequisites
1 semester	undergraduate	--
Contents
This module provides students with further awareness of musical thought, behavior and practice in historical and/or contemporary sociocultural contexts. In addition to musical characteristics and performance practices, the module explores the relationships between music and belief systems, identity, sociopolitical movements, and/or other sociocultural issues. The module provides transnational perspectives as well as deeper knowledge into additional music cultures of particular regions and/or social groups. Course topics and areas covered may vary from semester to semester.
Intended learning outcomes
On successful completion of this module, students should be able to demonstrate in-depth knowledge of a particular musical idiom, demonstrate an expanded understanding of relevant musical-social issues, think critically about diverse musical expressions in historical and contemporary sociocultural contexts, and effectively communicate their own research and/or ideas on ethnomusicological topics in written and/or verbal form.
Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)
S (2) Module taught in: German and/or English
Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)
a) written homework (approx. 3,000 to 5,000 words) or  b) portfolio (70 to 100 hours total) or  c) written examination (approx. 60 to 90 minutes)  Language of assessment: German and/or English
Allocation of places
30 places.  Should the number of applications exceed the number of available places, places will be allocated as follows: Bachelor's students of Ethnomusicology (60 ECTS points) will be given preferential consideration. The remaining places will be allocated to students of other subjects. Should the number of applications exceed the number of available places, places will be allocated according to the number of subject semesters. Among applicants with the same number of subject semesters, places will be allocated by lot. A waiting list will be maintained and places re-allocated by lot as they become available.
