Content and Objectives of the Programme

The Master’s degree programme Cultural Landscapes (120 ECTS credits) offers research-oriented specialist training. Graduates will be well equipped for both academic and highly skilled non-academic careers in the area of history education. Graduates of the degree programme Cultural Landscapes will

• have gained detailed insights into selected topics in local and regional history taking a comparative transatlantic perspective. In this context, graduates will also have explored aspects of both American and European history.
• be able to reflect on research findings in the field of history, to independently identify research problems and desiderata and to develop solutions, drawing on a sound knowledge of the scientific discipline, using historical methods.
• be able to incorporate the knowledge of the impact history and culture have on regions into history education as well as into practical tasks in the area of culture and regional development.
• have gained the research experience necessary for a possible transfer to a doctoral programme after the award of the Master’s degree.
Abbreviations used

Course types: E = field trip, K = colloquium, O = conversatorium, P = placement/lab course, R = project, S = seminar, T = tutorial, Ü = exercise, V = lecture

Term: SS = summer semester, WS = winter semester

Methods of grading: NUM = numerical grade, B/NB = (not) successfully completed

Regulations: (L)ASPO = general academic and examination regulations (for teaching-degree programmes), FSB = subject-specific provisions, SFB = list of modules

Other: A = thesis, LV = course(s), PL = assessment(s), TN = participants, VL = prerequisite(s)

Conventions

Unless otherwise stated, courses and assessments will be held in German, assessments will be offered every semester and modules are not creditable for bonus.

Notes

Should there be the option to choose between several methods of assessment, the lecturer will agree with the module coordinator on the method of assessment to be used in the current semester by two weeks after the start of the course at the latest and will communicate this in the customary manner.

Should the module comprise more than one graded assessment, all assessments will be equally weighted, unless otherwise stated below.

Should the assessment comprise several individual assessments, successful completion of the module will require successful completion of all individual assessments.

In accordance with the general regulations governing the degree subject described in this module catalogue:

ASPO2009

associated official publications (FSB (subject-specific provisions)/SFB (list of modules)):

10-Jul-2014 (2014-35)

This module handbook seeks to render, as accurately as possible, the data that is of statutory relevance according to the examination regulations of the degree subject. However, only the FSB (subject-specific provisions) and SFB (list of modules) in their officially published versions shall be legally binding. In the case of doubt, the provisions on, in particular, module assessments specified in the FSB/SFB shall prevail.

Contents

This module focuses on consolidating students' knowledge of regional history and giving students an opportunity to independently apply this knowledge, employ the methods of the discipline, and use relevant forms of presentation. Discussing selected examples, the module consolidates students' previous knowledge of regional history. Problems in regional history are explored in both source-based and research-oriented courses. A particular focus is on working with (online) regional history databases.

Intended learning outcomes

Students are able to familiarise themselves with more complex issues, employing the methods of the discipline and taking into account relevant source material and secondary literature as well as the findings of related disciplines. They are able to independently analyse and interpret sources and accounts of regional history. They are able to record, interpret, and present their findings, using modern software.
