Content and Objectives of the Programme

The Adult Education and Management in Lifelong Education programme leading to the degree of Master of Arts (MA) is offered by the Faculty of Human Sciences of JMU in the framework of a consecutive Bachelor's/ Master's model. The Master of Arts degree is a further professional or research-oriented university degree. The aim of the course is to gain a deeper understanding of questions and problems in adult education, further training and lifelong education. The students acquire professional knowledge that enables them to independently and flexibly address the needs of the labor market in various educational fields.

The Master's program can be studied entirely in English. To offer students additional options, modules offered exclusively in German have been included in the elective program. The Master's thesis can also be completed in German upon request.

The program offers international exchange programs in cooperation with selected foreign partner universities. The details are regulated in the respective cooperation agreements between the participating universities, which are published in accordance with local custom (e.g., on the website of the Faculty of Humanities at JMU).

Conventions

Unless otherwise stated, courses and assessments will be held in German, assessments will be offered every semester and modules are not creditable for bonus.

Notes

Should there be the option to choose between several methods of assessment, the lecturer will agree with the module coordinator on the method of assessment to be used in the current semester by two weeks after the start of the course at the latest and will communicate this in the customary manner.

Should the module comprise more than one graded assessment, all assessments will be equally weighted, unless otherwise stated below.

Should the assessment comprise several individual assessments, successful completion of the module will require successful completion of all individual assessments.

In accordance with the general regulations governing the degree subject described in this module catalogue:

ASPO2015

associated official publications (FSB (subject-specific provisions)/SFB (list of modules)):

o6-Aug-2025 (2025-81)

This module handbook seeks to render, as accurately as possible, the data that is of statutory relevance according to the examination regulations of the degree subject. However, only the FSB (subject-specific provisions) and SFB (list of modules) in their officially published versions shall be legally binding. In the case of doubt, the provisions on, in particular, module assessments specified in the FSB/SFB shall prevail.

Contents
In this module, students learn the basics of empirical research methods that are relevant for research in the field of adult education/continuing education. This includes basic principles of empirical research methods as well as the development of survey designs (e.g. interviews, questionnaire surveys), data preparation (e.g. transcription, data cleansing), data selection (e.g. working with existing data sets), the development of evaluation methods (e.g. interview analysis, descriptive statistics) and the understanding of empirical studies. The module can be taken via the offerings of the Virtual University of Bavaria: https://www.vhb.org/studierende/ . Before booking courses, it is recommended to have the eligibility for recognition of the course confirmed via master-education@uni-wuerzburg.de.
Intended learning outcomes
The aim of the module is for students to understand the basic principles of empirical studies and to be able to assess whether studies follow these basic principles.

Contents
This module focuses on visitor-centred approaches to museum work. Based on the theoretical considerations of social inclusion (Richard Sandell), the opening of museums to all milieus and social groups (keyword diversity) as well as participative and self-reflective museum work are dealt with, but also the strategic development of target groups. Best practice examples will be discussed and ideas for your own implementation options developed. An additional focus is on current research in the sense of a theoretical foundation for museum practice.
Intended learning outcomes
Students are familiar with different theoretical approaches and methodologies and are able to put them into practice in museums. This transfer of practice and theory generates a gain in professional competences in addition to academic knowledge.

Contents
This module focuses on visitor-centred educational/mediation (Vermittlung) work with digital media, which is becoming increasingly important in museums. Based on an expanded concept of education (cultural education/Kulturelle Bildung) and self-collected results of qualitative visitor research, new digital mediation formats are developed for selected museum objects in teamwork and design concepts are created. These are visualised using models. There is an additional focus on material culture with regard to qualitative object analyses and ways of use.
Intended learning outcomes
In addition to basic competences in model making, students have the ability to apply methods of visitor research and exhibition evaluation (contextual design, design thinking) and to evaluate the results. They have acquired reflective knowledge of target groups, mediation methods and the use of digital media in museums. The development of a realisable, digital mediation and design concept for a museum object in working groups strengthens discourse, team and professional skills.

The module offers theory-based insights into the large, diverse area of "cultural heritage" - whereby aspects of identity formation, collective memory, history and cultural policy are also taken into account - and provides in-depth knowledge from various thematic sub-areas. There is a fundamental focus on the aspect of the creation of cultural heritage (heritagification) as well as the respective mechanisms, actors and interests behind it.
Intended learning outcomes
Students are able to recognise that "cultural heritage" is not something that exists per se, but something that has been created. They can critically reflect on who, at what time and for what reasons, has an interest in declaring a certain object as "cultural heritage" and in preserving, changing or destroying this "heritage".

Description: This module deals with the basic concept and methodology of the ordinary least squares (OLS) regression model. In particular, model assumptions and properties are discussed and formally motivated. In addition, the module examines linear restrictions on the model's explanatory variables as well as dummy variables and introduces tests to verify simple and multiple linear restrictions. Linear algebra is used as formal aid. Outline of syllabus: 1. Random variables 2. Important distributions 3. Point estimates 4. Simple linear regression model 5. Model assumptions 6. Model properties 7. Simple hypothesis tests 8. Multiple linear regression model 9. Linear restrictions 10. Dummy variables 11. Multiple hypothesis tests
The students acquire knowledge of the basics, concepts and methods used in the classical linear regression model and understand the role of econometrics in science and data analysis. In particular, they learn how to analytically derive, calculate and interpret the coefficients, standard errors and p-values of a classic regression output of the multiple regression model. Furthermore, they are able to formally state and motivate the assumptions and properties of OLS and know how to deal with transformed and dummy variables. Additionally, students will be able to test multiple linear restrictions on the parameters and will be able to apply these tests to real economic, business and social science questions. The competences acquired in this course serve as a prerequisite for "Econometrics II", "Econometrics III", "Microeconometrics" und "Financial Econometrics".

Introduction to studying "Diversity Management, Religion and Education". By means of research literature and current publications, this course conveys basic ideas and concepts, scientific methods, models and approaches, and, especially, theological argumentation strategies in the fields of Diversity Studies and Diversity Management.
Intended learning outcomes
Students will acquire the basic concepts in the field of Diversity Management. They are able to distinguish between different models, approaches, and argumentations in the field of Diversity Studies. They are also able to understand theoretical texts, report them in an adequate manner, and classify the texts according to different problems. Further, students are able to name key problems of socio-cultural diversity, diversity management, and diversity studies.

The course consists of three modules with three units each. The topics of the course correspond to different personal fields of action of the students. Module I deals with topics related to personal experiences in Germany. Module II covers the students' everyday life and Module III expands the learners' scope of action to include institutional conversational situations. In the course, receptive skills are developed through authentic listening and reading texts and written language production through forum tasks. The monological and dialogic text types provide students with language patterns for oral language production. All three modules end with an online module test on the platform. The online course is tutored, which means that participants receive individual feedback on the tests and forum assignments they have completed.
Intended learning outcomes
This course provides students with a solid grammar base (structures) for everyday communication situations at level A2 of the Council of Europe's Common European Framework of Reference for Languages. Moreover, the acquired knowledge serves to integrate into everyday university life and to establish contact with German students. At the end of the course, students will be able to understand simple sentences and frequently used expressions, communicate in simple, routine situations, and use simple means to describe their own background and education, their immediate surroundings, and things related to immediate needs.

In this course, students work with texts on factual topics and popular science content. The aim is to extract information from these texts and to present it coherently in their own words. The course focuses on the training of different reading styles and the oral processing of the new information. Furthermore, at the end of the course, students are asked to comment on a text in a free speech and to formulate personal assessments.
Intended learning outcomes
The course is based on level B2 of the Council of Europe's Common European Framework of Reference for Languages. The goal is to further develop competence in the skills of reading and speaking.
Reading skill:
• Can extract information from texts on a variety of factual topics and present it in a coherent way. • Can read and understand articles and reports on contemporary problems in which the writers express a particular attitude or point of view.
Speaking Skill:
• Can give a clear and detailed account of many topics in specialized areas of interest. • Can explain a point of view on a current issue and give advantages and disadvantages of various options.

This course is designed for students at level B2 of the Council of Europe's Common European Framework of Reference for Languages. It teaches both study-relevant and university-specific vocabulary. The course consists of three modules, each divided into four units. At the end of Module I and II, participants must submit a writing assignment and complete an online module test. The last module concludes with an online test on the content of the entire course: Module I: Encounters Module II: Goals Module III: Developments
In this course, students acquire competencies in vocabulary and vocabulary learning at level B2 of the Council of Europe's Common European Framework of Reference for Languages. The aim of the course is to: • teach vocabulary relevant to the study and subject matter, • to enable the use of the vocabulary, • to show strategies for systematic vocabulary expansion and • to teach strategies for independent vocabulary acquisition.

This course is designed to meet the training needs of foreign students in reading comprehension at the general science level. In the course, the reading styles of global, selective and detailed reading are introduced and trained so that students can use these different types of reading purposefully. The strategies introduced in the course provide assistance in the study of difficult texts. They refer to • the structure and composition of texts and • the function of selected grammatical structures in the context of understanding texts. The course is divided into three modules: Module I: People and Places Module II: Research and Time Module III: Challenges and Innovations
In this course, students learn how to deal with academic texts at level B2 of the Council of Europe's Common European Framework of Reference for Languages and which strategies help them to extract as much information as possible. The goal is to create a foundation that will enable students to work independently in specific areas of knowledge. To achieve this, students practice strategies for accessing academic texts. This means that they answer questions about various texts and solve tasks designed to analyze what they have read, identify content, and deal with grammatical aspects of texts.

In this module the participants learn about the problem of defining the term "regional studies" and become familiar with the basic features of political, economic and cultural conditions and developments in Germany and, to some extent, in the German-speaking world as a whole. The main focus is on understanding contexts. Students work on central topics concerning regional studies out of a historical, cultural and current perspective. The module is based on level C1 of the Council of Europe's Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.
Intended learning outcomes
The students deal with regional studies in Germany in a critical way. In doing so, they recognise connections between historical, cultural, social and linguistic developments, based on exemplary examples and develop skills for reflecting on intercultural similarities and differences.

This course is designed to meet the training needs of foreign students in the area of reading comprehension at the general science level. In the course, reading strategies are introduced and trained to help students understand the texts they are working on at different levels: • Global level: this level is about recognizing the theme of the text. • Level of text structure: in this phase, the aim is to understand the structure of the text, the content of the individual sections of meaning and the argumentative strand. • Level of selected passages: This phase is about looking for specific information in the text and understanding it in detail, depending on the cognitive interest. • Formal-linguistic level: This level offers assistance to weaker readers by clarifying again some references made in the text during the course. The strategies introduced in the course offer assistance in the study of difficult texts. They refer to • the structure and composition of texts and • the function of selected grammatical structures in connection with the comprehension of texts. The course is divided into three modules: Module I: Language & Culture Module II: Business & Law Module III: Science & Technology
In this course, students learn how to deal with longer and more argumentatively complex general science texts at level C1 of the Council of Europe's Common European Framework of Reference for Languages, working with several texts on current topics that introduce a new area of knowledge. You will learn strategies to help you understand the texts and extract as much information as possible. To achieve this goal, students practice strategies for accessing academic texts. This means they answer questions about various texts and solve tasks designed to analyze what they read, identify content, and deal with grammatical aspects of texts.

In the course of the course, students work on topic areas oriented to their interests. These are debates currently taking place in the media from the areas of society, politics, economics and culture. Topics are developed in small groups, material (texts, videos, etc.) is collected and prepared in the form of presentations, which serve as a basis for further discussions and statements.
Intended learning outcomes
The course is based on level C2 of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages of the Council of Europe. The goal for students is to, • gain insight into a selection of current political, economic and social debates in German-speaking countries, • to extract key statements from press texts and to be able to summarize texts that are complex in terms of language and content, either orally or in writing, • to be able to view a debate from different angles, • be able to deliver their own well-founded statements on various topics, and • to be able to use the means of speech for debating and arguing.

In this module, students (without any previous knowledge of the target language) gain a basic knowledge of the target language. They develop language skills for both general and academic purposes.
Intended learning outcomes
Students will develop basic general language skills and become familiar with intercultural aspects. They will develop an elementary ability to communicate and exchange information in a very basic way. When they read or listen to texts, they will understand familiar, everyday expressions and very simple sentences. Students will be able to speak and write in the target language, using simple phrases. At the end of the module, students will have developed skills in the target language that are equivalent to level "A1 -- Breakthrough" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

ECTS	Method of grading	Only after succ. compl. of module(s)
5	numerical grade	--
Duration	Module level	Other prerequisites
1 semester	undergraduate	Required level of language proficiency: A2
Contents
In this module, students gain a basic knowledge of the target language. They develop language skills for both general and academic purposes.
Intended learning outcomes
Students will develop a basic general knowledge of the target language and become familiar with intercultural aspects as well as with the culture and society of countries in which the target language is spoken. When they read or listen to texts on topics they are familiar with, they will understand the main points. They will be able to talk and write about general topics, using fundamental grammatical structures and an appropriate yet limited vocabulary. At the end of the module, students will have developed skills in the target language that are equivalent to level "B1 -- Threshold" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.
Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German)
Ü (4)
Method of assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module is creditable for bonus)
a) written examination (approx. 90 minutes) or b) written examination (approx. 60 to 90 minutes) and oral assessment (5 to 10 minutes, e. g. contribution to the discussion, group presentation) weighted 3:1 or c) 2 to 5 assessments (7 to 10 pages and 5 to 10 minutes): Assessments may take a written or an oral form or a combination of these two forms. The number and type of assessments will be specified by the lecturer at the beginning of the course. Examples of oral forms of assessment include but are not limited to short presentations, presentations and contributions to the discussion. Examples of written forms of assessment include but are not limited to text production as well as listening and reading exercises. The total scope/length of oral and/or written assessments will be announced in class. The specified types of examinations a), b) and c) can also be used as electronic distance examinations in accordance with Section 1, Paragraph 5 of the Framework Regulations for conducting electronic distance examinations, online exams or other examination formats as an alternative or replacement for face-to-face examinations in connection with the regulations of these framework regulations, in particular Section 3 (4). The lecturer announces the exam format at the beginning of the course. Language of assessment: Italian Allocation of places
min. 5, max. 25 In the event that the number of applications exceeds the number of available places, the number of places available will be allocated as follows: 1. The allocation of the available places takes place after the drawing of lots. 2. Spaces that are subsequently vacated will be raffled in the follow-up procedure. In an online course format, the number of participants is limited to a maximum of 20.

1 semester	undergraduate	Required level of language proficiency: B1
Contents
In this module, students gain an intermediate knowledge of the target language. They develop language skills for both general and academic purposes.
Intended learning outcomes
Students will develop an intermediate general knowledge of the target language and become familiar with intercultural aspects as well as with the culture and society of countries in which the target language is spoken. They will understand longer speeches and presentations as well as longer texts of medium difficulty that use general and subject-specific vocabulary. They will be able to express themselves, both orally and in writing, in a structured and detailed manner about a number of topics of personal interest. This module aims to enable students to reach level "B2 -- Vantage" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

Contents
In this module, students are taught advanced knowledge of the foreign language. Combined with the targeted training of communicative competencies and intercultural competence oriented towards the target language country, the focus is on teaching grammatical structures and vocabulary training.
Intended learning outcomes
In this module, the student acquires advanced knowledge with a general language orientation with targeted consideration of level-specific grammatical structures and idioms as well as level-specific vocabulary. He/she can communicate approximately fluently and express him/herself orally and in writing on a wide range of topics. In addition, he/she can read and understand longer complex texts independently and write formal and informal texts of various formats. Upon completion of this module, he/she will have acquired competences in the foreign language oriented towards the level "B2 - Vantage" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages of the Council of Europe.

head of Language Centre (ZFS)		Language Centre (ZfS)
ECTS	Method of grading	Only after succ. compl. of module(s)
3	numerical grade	--
Duration	Module level	Other prerequisites
1 semester	undergraduate	Required level of language proficiency: B2.2
Contents
This module equips students with an advanced knowledge of the target language that will allow them to communicate appropriately, in both written and oral form, at university and in the workplace. They develop language skills for both general and academic purposes.
Intended learning outcomes
Students gain sound (written and oral) communication skills and become familiar with intercultural aspects as well as with the culture and society of countries where the target language is spoken. They are able to communicate about virtually any topic in a precise and nuanced manner, both orally and in writing, using language flexibly. This module aims to enable students to reach level "C1 -- Effective Operational Proficiency" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

ECTS	Method of grading	Only after succ. compl. of module(s)
3	numerical grade	--
Duration	Module level	Other prerequisites
1 semester	undergraduate	Required level of language proficiency: B2.2
Contents
This module equips students with an advanced knowledge of the target language that will allow them to communicate appropriately, in both written and oral form, at university and in the workplace. The course focuses on equipping students with knowledge about the culture and society of the country where the target language is spoken while giving them an opportunity to systematically practise their communication skills and equipping them with country-specific intercultural skills.
Intended learning outcomes
Students develop advanced language skills and a thorough familiarity with the culture and society of the country where the target language is spoken. They are thus able to communicate, both verbally and in writing, in a variety of situations, taking into account aspects related to the culture and society of said country. They are able to effectively and flexibly use the target language, both during study abroad periods and in the workplace. This module aims to enable students to reach level "C1 -- Effective Operational Proficiency" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

Contents
This module will teach students how to write academic texts in the target language. It will examine the structure of academic texts, analysing selected examples, and will discuss formal, grammatical, and lexical problems that are frequently encountered by students.
Intended learning outcomes
Students are able to understand academic texts and research problems. They are able to write on research problems, adhering to the principles of good academic practice (academic writing conventions, citation rules, style). This module aims to enable students to reach level "C1 -- Effective Operational Proficiency" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

ECTS	Method of grading	Only after succ. compl. of module(s)
5	numerical grade	--
Duration	Module level	Other prerequisites
1 semester	undergraduate	Required level of language proficiency: B2.2
Contents
In this module students will improve their English skills by using the language in classwork - pair work, group work, project work. This deepening of knowledge (English language and business content) will enable participants to communicate in situations both orally and in writing in a manner fitting to the circumstance that they are confronted with in a business environment. This module will practice skills such as presenting new ideas, negotiating and writing emails and reports. Discussion of current events and topics relating to the class materials will round out the weekly classes.
Intended learning outcomes
The student achieves a sound (written and oral) communication ability in the specialist language. He/she has in-depth subject-related linguistic knowledge and skills that enable him/her to communicate on selected topics in appropriate communication situations through the variable use of linguistic means. He/she has mastered the linguistic vocabulary and structures required in the field of business. The module is aimed at achieving the level "C1 - Effective Operational Proficiency" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages of the Council of Europe.

ECTS	Method of grading	Only after succ. compl. of module(s)
5	numerical grade	--
Duration	Module level	Other prerequisites
1 semester	undergraduate	Required level of language proficiency: B2.2
Contents
In this module students will expand their knowledge of English which will allow them to communicate confidently in both a university and business context in writing as well as orally. In addition to focused training in communicative competences, being comfortable with English in intercultural situations, as well as discussing current events and topics relating to the class materials will also be worked on.
Intended learning outcomes
The student achieves a sound (written and oral) communication ability in the specialist language. He/she has in-depth subject-related linguistic knowledge and skills that enable him/her to communicate on selected topics in appropriate communication situations through the variable use of linguistic means. He/she has mastered the linguistic vocabulary and structures required in the field of business. The module is aimed at achieving the level "C1 - Effective Operational Proficiency" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages of the Council of Europe.

Contents
This module equips students with an advanced knowledge of the target language that will allow them to communicate appropriately, in both written and oral form, at university and in the workplace. The course focuses on developing students' academic presentation skills while equipping them with science-specific communication skills in the target language as well as country-specific intercultural skills.
Intended learning outcomes
Students gain sound oral, science-specific communication skills in the target language. They develop advanced science-specific language skills that will allow them to communicate about selected topics in corresponding situations, using language flexibly. Students are proficient in scientific terminology and are able to present and discuss their theories and analyses in an appropriate manner. This module aims to enable students to reach level "C1 -- Effective Operational Proficiency" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages.

Duration	Module level	Other prerequisites
1 semester	undergraduate	Required level of language proficiency: B2.2
Contents
This module provides students with in-depth knowledge of the foreign language, enabling them to communicate in a foreign language appropriate to the situation, both orally and in writing, at university or at work. Combined with the targeted training of communicative competencies, the focus is on the acquisition of intercultural knowledge and skills.
Intended learning outcomes
In this module, the student acquires in-depth linguistic and intercultural knowledge and skills in the foreign language that enable him/her to communicate orally and in writing in a wide variety of situations and with the inclusion of intercultural aspects. He/she is able to use the foreign language effectively and flexibly in both study abroad and professional settings. The module is aimed at achieving the level "C1 - Effective Operational Proficiency" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages of the Council of Europe.

Duration	Module level	Other prerequisites
1 semester	undergraduate	Required level of language proficiency: B2.2
Contents
In this module, students are taught in-depth knowledge of the foreign language that enables them to communicate orally and in writing appropriately in foreign-language situations at university or at work. Combined with the teaching of subject-related language knowledge and skills and intercultural competence oriented towards the target language country, the focus is on the acquisition of written communicative competence in the field of natural sciences.
Intended learning outcomes
The student achieves a sound written communication ability in the specialist language. He/she has in-depth subject-related linguistic knowledge and skills that enable him/her to communicate on selected topics in appropriate communication situations through the variable use of linguistic means. Students have mastered the linguistic vocabulary and structures required in the field of natural sciences and are able to comprehend the composition and structure of factual and specialized texts from the field of natural sciences as well as to critically evaluate and correct their own texts. The module is aimed at achieving the level "C1 - Effective Operational Proficiency" of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages of the Council of Europe.
