Content and Objectives of the Programme

Graduates acquire a professional and scientific qualification via a framework of a multifaceted and variable curricular. This enables them to respond to the demands of the labour market in different professional fields of pedagogical work: schools, extracurricular youth work, adult learning and early childhood education. Furthermore they have gained fundamental knowledge in one of the following branches of study: education for learning disabilities, or education for physical disabilities, or speech and language pathology, or education for developmental and intellectual disabilities, or education for emotional and behavioral disorders. All of these include specific educational basics, teaching and educational methods as well as psychological aspects of these scientific subjects. They are able to reflect different pedagogical theories in their respective systematic, historical and socio-cultural contexts and are proficient in the design and execution of qualitative and quantitative research projects. In addition to this graduates possess the ability to make reference to socio-political discourses. They demonstrate outstanding ability to become acquainted with the complexity of different thematic fields and to methodically conceive and organize them in a way that enables the creation of didactical arrangements of teaching and learning. This acquired professional knowledge, competences and methodologies qualifies graduates for scientific work and for the critical reflection of scientific knowledge/results at a high academic level.
Abbreviations used

Course types:
- E = field trip,
- K = colloquium,
- O = conversatorium,
- P = placement/lab course,
- R = project,
- S = seminar,
- T = tutorial,
- Ü = exercise,
- V = lecture

Term:
- SS = summer semester,
- WS = winter semester

Methods of grading:
- NUM = numerical grade,
- B/NB = (not) successfully completed

Regulations:
- (L)ASPO = general academic and examination regulations (for teaching-degree programmes),
- FSB = subject-specific provisions,
- SFB = list of modules

Other:
- A = thesis,
- LV = course(s),
- PL = assessment(s),
- TN = participants,
- VL = prerequisite(s)

Conventions

Unless otherwise stated, courses and assessments will be held in German, assessments will be offered every semester and modules are not creditable for bonus.

Notes

Should there be the option to choose between several methods of assessment, the lecturer will agree with the module coordinator on the method of assessment to be used in the current semester by two weeks after the start of the course at the latest and will communicate this in the customary manner.

Should the module comprise more than one graded assessment, all assessments will be equally weighted, unless otherwise stated below.

Should the assessment comprise several individual assessments, successful completion of the module will require successful completion of all individual assessments.

In accordance with the general regulations governing the degree subject described in this module catalogue:

ASPO2015

associated official publications (FSB (subject-specific provisions)/SFB (list of modules)):

3-Aug-2015 (2015-73)

4-Apr-2016 (2016-56)

This module handbook seeks to render, as accurately as possible, the data that is of statutory relevance according to the examination regulations of the degree subject. However, only the FSB (subject-specific provisions) and SFB (list of modules) in their officially published versions shall be legally binding. In the case of doubt, the provisions on, in particular, module assessments specified in the FSB/SFB shall prevail.

Contents
Based on the subject area of Special Education, this module shows the connections between its history, theories, institutions and disciplines. Furthermore, it gives an overview of the various and complex fields of action of preschool, school and extracurricular special educational practice.

Intended learning outcomes
This module provides an overview of the theoretical knowledge of the degree subject. Knowledge regarding special educational practice on different levels.

Contents

A lecture series explains the essential theoretical principles of the individual special educational subjects (Education for People with Learning Disabilities, Education for People with Developmental and Intellectual Disabilities, Education for People with Physical and Complex Disabilities, Speech and Language Pathology, Education for People with Emotional and Behavioural Disorders). Subject-specific work placements connect theory and practice.

Intended learning outcomes

Theoretical competencies in the corresponding subject (e.g. history, phenomenology, support and methodological systems, legal basics, current developments in theory and practice). Competencies regarding schooling and education in the context of (multifactorial) disabilities. Competencies regarding special educational schooling, education and support.

Contents
We discuss early theoretical concepts and their development or modification (for example Georgens/Deinhardt) in the context of current theories (for example WHO, inclusion) as well as their effects on scientific research. We examine society’s attitude towards disabilities and the development of individual and social identity in the context of disabilities (possibly in the context of specific types of disability). Furthermore, we talk about possibilities of social empathy and ways of improvement as well as aspects of attitude change.

Intended learning outcomes
Advanced knowledge of specific theoretical concepts, reflection competence in the context of disabilities and society, increasing problem awareness in the context of disabilities (possibly with a specific focus).

Contents

Basic knowledge and orientational knowledge of curative and special educational psychology. Scientific-theoretical and historical principles of the subject. Selected eras of the history of psychology in the context of disabilities. Principles of special educational-psychological diagnostics. Selected diagnostic (observation) methods and screenings in view of educational promotion.

Intended learning outcomes

Basic knowledge and orientational knowledge regarding special educational diagnostic work. Methodological competence regarding psychological interventions and diagnostic observation techniques. Knowledge of processes of knowledge acquisition and changes in behaviour.

Intended learning outcomes
The students know the special situation of people with impairments and handicaps regarding the job and labour market as well as the possibilities of support (professional competence). They are able to acquire specific information about the introduction to labour and occupation in a highly dynamic field and to keep their knowledge up-to-date (methodological competence). They have advanced their basic knowledge on their own or in small groups (social, methodological and professional competence). They are able to independently conduct smaller surveys on the job and labour situation of people with impairments and handicaps and can develop need-oriented approaches (methodological competence and self-competence).

Contents
During the work placements, the students become acquainted with the work of a special educational or inclusive institution and gain own experiences. In the seminar, they use specific examples from the work placements to evaluate the institutions' work practice in view of their theories, (special) education and psychology.

Intended learning outcomes
The students know the specific pedagogical and special educational questions of a corresponding institution (institutions for people with developmental and intellectual disabilities, physical disabilities, socio-emotional disorders, learning disabilities and speech impediments). The students know the possibilities of individual support in pedagogical and psychological contexts; they gain experience in determining the special educational needs of individuals with disabilities/impairments and in developing diagnosis-oriented education plans.

Contents

Special Education as an academic discipline; subject and purpose of science and scientificity, scientific methods and systems, central and selected scientific-theoretical theories and methods of knowledge acquisition (especially: empirical-analytical approach, critical rationalism, phenomenology, hermeneutics, critical theory, constructivism and systems theory) as well as principles of scientific work -- also based on specific problems and topics of special educational theory, empirical research and practice.

Intended learning outcomes

The students are able to examine special educational problems in view of different scientific positions and perspectives (professional and methodological competence). They have advanced their basic knowledge of scientific theory on their own or in small groups (social, methodological and professional competence). By applying different learning techniques, the students extend their knowledge of scientific theory and learn to conduct systematic and methodological research; they are able to independently conduct and evaluate small scientific projects (methodological, social and self-competence).

Contents

Knowledge of the historical development of Speech and Language Pathology; advanced knowledge of the pre-conditions of language and speech; principles of language acquisition and theories; introduction to the main clinical pictures of language and speech in the context of learning disabilities and behavioural abnormalities

Intended learning outcomes

Self- and social competence: The students concentrate on studying contents of Speech and Language Pathology and neighbouring disciplines. Methodological competence: The students methodically acquire professional knowledge of Speech and Language Pathology and neighbouring disciplines and critically evaluate these disciplines in view of their application possibilities and requirements in theory and practice. Subject and professional competence: The students acquire indispensable basic knowledge of theory construction in Speech and Language Pathology, which is always interdisciplinary. They especially learn about pronunciation (respiration, phonation, articulation) and forms of dysarthria relevant to Speech and Language Pathology. Based on these principles, the students acquire knowledge of speech disorders in the context of learning disabilities and behavioural abnormalities.

Contents
Basic knowledge of classification, aetiology, pathogenesis and symptomatology of language, speech and communication disorders; basic knowledge of linguistics, provided that it is relevant for the identification, scientific explanation, diagnostics and therapy of disorders.

Intended learning outcomes
Self- and social competence: The students have acquired subject-specific knowledge from various disciplines (mainly speech therapy). They are able to examine the topic by critically evaluating models and theories. Methodological competence: The students analyse scientific texts in a hermeneutic way and critically discuss them in the plenum as well as in groups. Subject and professional competence: The students gain a detailed and interdisciplinary overview of language, speech, and communication disorders which are a topic of Speech and Language Pathology. They particularly acquire professional medical knowledge as a basis for scientific work and action in diagnostic/therapeutic practice.

Key Skills Area
(ECTS credits)

In the two degree subjects, students must achieve a total of 20 ECTS credits in the area of transferable skills. Of these, a total of 5 ECTS credits must be achieved in the two subjects in the area of general transferable skills and a total of 15 ECTS credits (no less than 5 ECTS credits per subject) must be achieved in the two subjects in the area of subject-specific transferable skills.
General Key Skills
(0-5 ECTS credits)

Students must take modules offered as part of the pool of general transferable skills (ASQ) of JMU.
Subject-specific Key Skills
(5-10 ECTS credits)
Module title: Theory of and practice in deprived areas (project)
Abbreviation: 06-V-ProjsozBP-152-m01

Module coordinator:
holder of the Chair of Special Education V

ECTS: 5
Method of grading: Only after succ. compl. of module(s)

Duration: 2 semester
Module level: undergraduate
Other prerequisites: Practical work: participation in project teams.

Contents
Selected problems of Education for People with Emotional and Behavioural Disorders, group processes and processes of social learning, violence prevention, intercultural competencies in working with families with a migrant background, alternating prioritisation under the guidance of subject specialists, pedagogical support for children and juveniles from deprived areas; gender- and age-homogeneous youth group work; interest-specific group work with children and juveniles.

Contents

Learning in heterogeneous groups; realisation possibilities in fields of action in the context of school; conflict area subject didactics - special educational needs. Analysis and structuring of teaching materials; creating teaching materials; combining theoretical considerations and practical exercises; different forms of open learning for individual and differentiated learning

Intended learning outcomes

- Professional competence: The students know possibilities and materials for individualised and differentiated classes. They are able to analyse and organise school and preschool learning areas. They know organisation forms and pedagogical implications of learning in heterogeneous groups. Social competence: The students are able to work in teams, share responsibilities and discuss the presentation of results. Self-competence: The students are able to transfer results of scientific work to school processes, evaluate the use of means in school and evaluate or create learning materials. They are able to present and defend their own work results.

Contents

Knowledge of the historical development of Speech and Language Pathology; advanced knowledge of the pre-conditions of language and speech; principles of language acquisition and theories; introduction to the main clinical pictures of language and speech in the context of learning disabilities and behavioural abnormalities.

Intended learning outcomes

Self- and social competence: The students concentrate on studying contents of Speech and Language Pathology and neighbouring disciplines. Methodological competence: The students methodically acquire professional knowledge of Speech and Language Pathology and neighbouring disciplines and critically evaluate these disciplines in view of their application possibilities and requirements in theory and practice. Subject and professional competence: The students acquire indispensable basic knowledge of theory construction in Speech and Language Pathology, which is always interdisciplinary. They especially learn about pronunciation (respiration, phonation, articulation) and forms of dysarthria relevant to Speech and Language Pathology. Based on these principles, the students acquire knowledge of speech disorders in the context of learning disabilities and behavioural abnormalities.

Contents

Basic knowledge of classification, aetiology, pathogenesis and symptomatology of language, speech and communication disorders; basic knowledge of linguistics, provided that it is relevant for the identification, scientific explanation, diagnostics and therapy of disorders.

Intended learning outcomes

Self- and social competence: The students have acquired subject-specific knowledge from various disciplines (mainly speech therapy). They are able to examine the topic by critically evaluating models and theories. Methodological competence: The students analyse scientific texts in a hermeneutic way and critically discuss them in the plenum as well as in groups. Subject and professional competence: The students gain a detailed and interdisciplinary overview of language, speech, and communication disorders which are a topic of Speech and Language Pathology. They particularly acquire professional medical knowledge as a basis for scientific work and action in diagnostic/therapeutic practice.

Contents
General aspects of prenatal development and birth, relevant information on early childhood development (cognitive, sensomotoric and socio-emotional development), aetiogenesis (risk factors) and symptomatology of disorders in early childhood development; milestones of pre-linguistic and early linguistic development, risk factors for language acquisition disorders, identification of early indicators and diagnostic possibilities, term definition and definition of prevention and early intervention, concepts of prevention and approaches to early intervention in the field of language.

Intended learning outcomes
Self- and social competence: The students have worked in groups to advance their knowledge of the module’s relevant topics. In doing so, they have advanced their knowledge of contents and have learned to discuss them during the seminar. Methodological competence: The students are able to critically examine scientific studies on pre-linguistic and early linguistic development. They become acquainted with computer-based analysis of pre-linguistic and first vocal utterances. Subject and professional skills: The students have knowledge of general pre- and postnatal development (especially aetiology and risk factors, symptomatology) and of pre-linguistic and early linguistic development. Furthermore, they are able find connections between language acquisition and other (cognitive, sensomotoric and socio-emotional) areas of early childhood development. The students advance their professional competencies regarding diagnostics and possibilities of early intervention in Speech and Language Pathology.
