History

as a degree subject in a Master’s degree programme with 2 majors
(45 ECTS credits)

Examination regulations version: 2012
Responsible: Institute of History
Responsible: Faculty of Arts, Historical, Philological, Cultural and Geographical Studies
Course of Studies - Contents and Objectives

Graduates of the Master's degree programme History (120 and 45 ECTS credits) will:

- have gained detailed insights into selected topics of the subject of History. Topics offered will come from all historical epochs and will cover aspects of German, European and World History as well as aspects of Comparative Local and Regional History focusing on a predefined region.
- be able to reflect on research results in the field of History, to independently identify research problems and desiderata and to develop solutions drawing on a sound knowledge of the scientific discipline using historical methods.
- be able to impart to others the knowledge of the impact of history on the present and, thereby, make a contribution to their political education and ability to participate in a democratic society.
- have gained the research experience necessary for a possible transfer to a doctoral programme after the award of the Master's degree.
Abbreviations used

Course types: E = field trip, K = colloquium, O = conversatorium, P = placement/lab course, R = project, S = seminar, T = tutorial, Ü = exercise, V = lecture

Term: SS = summer semester, WS = winter semester

Methods of grading: NUM = numerical grade, B/NB = (not) successfully completed

Regulations: (L)ASPO = general academic and examination regulations (for teaching-degree programmes), FSB = subject-specific provisions, SFB = list of modules

Other: A = thesis, LV = course(s), PL = assessment(s), TN = participants, VL = prerequisite(s)

Conventions

Unless otherwise stated, courses and assessments will be held in German, assessments will be offered every semester and modules are not creditable for bonus.

Notes

Should there be the option to choose between several methods of assessment, the lecturer will agree with the module coordinator on the method of assessment to be used in the current semester by two weeks after the start of the course at the latest and will communicate this in the customary manner.

Should the module comprise more than one graded assessment, all assessments will be equally weighted, unless otherwise stated below.

Should the assessment comprise several individual assessments, successful completion of the module will require successful completion of all individual assessments.

In accordance with the general regulations governing the degree subject described in this module catalogue:

Module Title: Level Four Module Ancient History

Abbreviation: 04-GeMA-IM-AG-122-m01

Module Coordinator: holder of the Chair of Ancient History

Module Offered by: Institute of History

ECTS: 10

Method of Grading: numerical grade

Only after succ. compl. of module(s): --

Duration: 1 semester

Module Level: graduate

Other Prerequisites: Admission prerequisite to assessment: regular attendance (a maximum of 2 incidents of unexcused absence) of courses (lectures excluded).

Contents:
This module focuses on consolidating students’ knowledge of ancient history and giving students an opportunity to independently apply this knowledge, employ the methods of the discipline, and use relevant forms of presentation. Discussing selected examples, the module consolidates students’ previous knowledge of ancient history. Problems in ancient history are explored in both source-based and research-oriented courses. Problems in cultural, social, structural, and economic history, the history of society, and the history of mentalities as well as interdisciplinary problems relating to Greco-Roman antiquity are also considered.

Intended Learning Outcomes:
Students are able to familiarise themselves with more complex issues, employing methods in ancient history and taking into account relevant source material and literature as well as the findings of related disciplines. They are able to analyse and interpret sources and accounts of Greek and Roman history.

Courses (type, number of weekly contact hours, language — if other than German):
V + S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)

Method of Assessment (type, scope, language — if other than German, examination offered — if not every semester, information on whether module can be chosen to earn a bonus):
a) presentation (approx. 25 minutes) with position paper (approx. 2 pages) and written elaboration (approx. 15 pages), or b) presentation (approx. 25 minutes) with position paper (approx. 2 pages) and written examination (approx. 60 minutes), weighted 3:7

In the seminar, students practise working with different research approaches, groups of sources, and controversial interpretations, investigating selected topics that were covered in the lecture(s). The exercise gives students an opportunity to consolidate, under expert guidance, the skills they have developed in the seminar. This research module always aims to equip students with the skills and methods they are likely to need for their theses.

Intended learning outcomes

The research module comprises a lecture, an exercise, and a seminar. Students develop the knowledge and skills they need to independently investigate historical problems. They reflect on the use of historical sources and practise working with these, drawing on the knowledge and skills they have acquired in the area of historical auxiliary sciences. In addition, they practise solving methodological and theoretical problems in history. Participation in this module also activates the language skills that are needed for historical research.

Contents

Students will independently research and write on a topic in a sub-discipline of history, adhering to the principles of good scholarly practice. The topic is to be agreed upon with an authorised examiner or, in the case of an interdisciplinary thesis, two authorised examiners.

Intended learning outcomes

To pass this module, students will be expected to:
- be able to independently write an academic paper (define and analyse a problem, conduct a literature search, employ relevant methods, refer to relevant theories, interpret data, draw logical conclusions, and offer approaches to the solution of said problem).
- be able to work to deadlines.
- be able to prepare an appropriate written account of the results of their work.
