Course of Studies - Contents and Objectives

During their Master's degree, the graduates deepened their educational knowledge and applied it to real world situations. Thanks to their studies, they are able not only to understand and interpret structural contexts and social dynamics but also to develop innovative solutions to them. The ability to link classical and contemporary theory and empirical educational research qualifies the graduates to work in an educational profession with a reflective/critical background and awareness. Through self-designed teaching projects, the graduates acquired theoretical and practical knowledge based on contemporary professional skills. They are capable of working independently and, based on systematic-scientific criteria, they can develop practical research projects using the latest methods, and then refer them back to the relevant theoretical concept/approach. The research methods include advanced techniques of quantitative and qualitative analysis as well as an elaborated research/study design. Practice-oriented fields of application were examined within an independent research. With an emphasis on education management, the graduates are prepared and qualified to work in a conceptional and operational section of education and business institutions eg teambuilding, employee development or organisational development.
Abbreviations used

Course types: E = field trip, K = colloquium, O = conversatorium, P = placement/lab course, R = project, S = seminar, T = tutorial, Ü = exercise, V = lecture

Term: SS = summer semester, WS = winter semester

Methods of grading: NUM = numerical grade, B/NB = (not) successfully completed

Regulations: (L)ASPO = general academic and examination regulations (for teaching-degree programmes), FSB = subject-specific provisions, SFB = list of modules

Other: A = thesis, LV = course(s), PL = assessment(s), TN = participants, VL = prerequisite(s)

Conventions

Unless otherwise stated, courses and assessments will be held in German, assessments will be offered every semester and modules are not creditable for bonus.

Notes

Should there be the option to choose between several methods of assessment, the lecturer will agree with the module coordinator on the method of assessment to be used in the current semester by two weeks after the start of the course at the latest and will communicate this in the customary manner.

Should the module comprise more than one graded assessment, all assessments will be equally weighted, unless otherwise stated below.

Should the assessment comprise several individual assessments, successful completion of the module will require successful completion of all individual assessments.

In accordance with the general regulations governing the degree subject described in this module catalogue:

Contents

Basic problems of systematic pedagogy, basic problems of schooling and education theory, basic philosophical questions of education and schooling, requirements, methods and goals of science.

Intended learning outcomes

The students are able to classify and evaluate different theories of educational sciences in a methodical, historical and sociocultural context. They know about the principles of standards, actions, culture and scientific theory of pedagogy and are able to explain them. They gain a general perspective on pedagogy and develop awareness of the problems of pedagogical stipulations and measures. Furthermore, the students are able to debate philosophical and anthropological requirements of pedagogical theories, discourses and actions. They are able to lead arguments on the basis of theories. The students know requirements, methods and goals of sciences and understand the different processes of knowledge acquisition in scientific theory.

Courses

This module comprises 2 module components. Information on courses will be listed separately for each module component.

- 06-BSB1-1-112: S + S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)
- 06-BSB1-2-112: S (no information on SWS (weekly contact hours) and course language available)

Method of assessment

Assessment in this module comprises the assessments in the individual module components as specified below. Unless stated otherwise, successful completion of the module will require successful completion of all individual assessments.

Assessment in module component 06-BSB1-1-112: Theory of Education Theory of Education

- 10 ECTS, Method of grading: numerical grade

Contents

In this module we discuss theories, methods and application fields of empiric educational research. Theories cover descriptions of and explanations for education and learning processes, research methods comprise quantitative and qualitative evaluation methods and research designs. We carry out an independent examination to study and test practice-oriented application fields.

Intended learning outcomes

After successfully completing this module, the students are able to independently conduct empirical studies in the field of educational research in a scientific and methodical manner. Furthermore, they are able to apply recent methods to evaluate their results and to relate these results to theoretical concepts.

Work placements in pedagogical fields in order to acquire and advance professional knowledge.

Intended learning outcomes
The students acquire professional knowledge and continue working on their own authority. In doing so, personal and social competencies are combined with the acquisition of professional knowledge. In addition, they gain basic knowledge of and insights into institutions/organisations. The practical experience also serves as a possibility for the students to evaluate their own professional self-perception and ethics.
