Theoretical and empirical research on motivation, lesson topics and keeping pupils motivated, measuring pupil performance (categories and objectives), dealing with mistakes, tailoring instruction to meet individual pupils' needs. Preparation for the written state examination: recap and discussion of aspects covered in courses related to Russian didactics.
Intended learning outcomes
Students are able to evaluate learning and teaching processes and know how these relate to motivation. They are familiar with the measurement of pupil performance and are able to use different methods of assessment in an appropriate manner as well as to evaluate the respective methods. Students are able to didactically analyse topics in the discipline with a view to the demands of the Russian classroom as well as to plan, design, and critically evaluate lessons.

Using appropriate scholarly methods, the student will research and write on a specific problem in literature, culture, or linguistics within the time period specified by ASPO (general academic and examination regulations). If the student is studying for a Bachelor's degree with two majors, he/she may choose an interdisciplinary topic relating to both subjects. The subject matter is to be agreed upon with the supervisor of the thesis or, in the case of the student studying two majors, with the supervisors.
Intended learning outcomes
The student is able to conduct research on a defined topic in Russian studies, adhering to the principles of good scholarly practice, and to appropriately present the results of his/her work in written form.
