Course of Studies - Contents and Objectives

The Bachelor degree »English and American Studies« deals with the language and literature of the English-speaking world. It conveys expertise in the fields of English language and grammar, English and American literature, English and American culture, and English linguistics. In the course of their studies, students will receive specialized academic training in Anglophone Studies, deepen their English-language proficiency and enhance their analytical skills. This program of study is designed to prepare students for a wide range of employment opportunities upon completion of the degree. As a first job-qualifying degree, the Bachelor »English and American Studies« responds to the demands of today's working environment as many professional fields require a sophisticated knowledge and understanding of languages as well as highly developed cultural and academic competences. Additionally, the Bachelor »English and American Studies« may qualify for various Master degree programs.

The program encompasses subject-related qualifications (including skills and competences) in the following areas:

- proficiency in speaking and reading the English language as well as producing complex English texts,
- an overview of selected themes and research areas of the field of English and American studies,
- abilities to critically engage with linguistic problems, to analyze and interpret literary, linguistic and culturally relevant texts in their historical and intellectual dimensions,
- methodologies of and approaches to literary and cultural studies and linguistics,
- analytical as well as research skills and familiarization with linguistic and/or literary and cultural developments specific to the English-speaking world,
- fundamental aspects of linguistics (e.g. syntax, morphology, semantics, pragmatics, phonology, phonetics),
- fundamental aspects of English and North American literature, including their historical and cultural backgrounds.
