Contents
This module is aimed at students who are studying history as vertieft studiertes Fach (subject studied with a focus on the scientific discipline; teaching degree Gymnasium) or Didaktikfach (subject studied with a focus on teaching methodology; teaching degree Grundschule or Hauptschule). It explores the didactic, methodological, and media-related bases of history didactics both in a theory-based manner and in relation to the practical implementation in the history classroom. The module provides an overview and discusses selected examples.
Intended learning outcomes
Students gain an overview of fundamental topics, research approaches, models, media, and methods of history didactics and become familiar with standard references on history didactics. They develop the ability to select and employ appropriate research methods. Students independently read relevant literature and develop the ability to critically review publications on history didactics. They consolidate this knowledge in a selected area within history didactics and/or historical methods.

The advanced module consolidates the basics that have already been acquired in the basic module. Hence, at least one subject area has to be covered in-depth and with emphasis in the introductory course, e.g. didactics and methodology of the communicative English lessons, intercultural learning, theories of learning languages. The course does not necessarily cover contents of the core curriculum, but can also include newer research results of the English teaching methodology and its reference disciplines. The course is an optimal preparation for the written exam, which is also based on the core curriculum.
Intended learning outcomes
To pass this module, students will be expected to: - acquire detailed knowledge of discussed areas of the English teaching methodology, - understand and reflect respective technical literature independently broaden their subject-specific repertoire of concepts.

Application of ideas, approaches and methods of a teaching sub-discipline (linguistic or literature/media teaching incl. children and youth literature) including subject-specific contents on scholastic practise; Consolidation and expansion of conceptual and practical teaching know-how including a critical reflection of teaching key ideas; Consolidation of the transition between educational institutions and the orientation of teaching subjects as well as methodical ideas; Theory-based, practice-oriented analysis of a study area of German classes.
Intended learning outcomes
Based on the knowledge that has been acquired in the basis module, students consolidate their professional skills in the sub-discipline didactics (linguistic or literature and media didactics). The focus will be on the correlation of theoretical concepts and technical as well as subject-specific constructs with a real lesson that is lesson plan compliant and meets current requirements. Regarding the issue self-competence, students will work out different role segments of the teaching profession (e.g. short presentation, textualisation of planning decisions, analysis of teaching objects, types of presentation, moderation). Students acquire a sub-discipline didactic context and also the know-how, which is embedded in theory and practical references, in a proactive as well as reflective way.

Contents
In this course we study basic contents, questions and issues of the didactic fields "creating movement", "playing with and against each other" and "promoting health" by evaluating our own practical experiences. We specify these fields by studying central aspects of the integration of movement-oriented topics into school life. These aspects include ways to implement such topics as well as possibilities to organise and differentiate curricular and extra-curricular sports. The students extend their knowledge about movement pedagogy by studying the development of balance and coordination skills. The module components "Creating Movement" and "Playing with and Against Each Other" each contain specific aspects of "Promoting Health".
Intended learning outcomes
The students acquire basic skills in the three afore-mentioned didactic fields. They are familiar with the essential criteria of planning, conducting and evaluating coordination training processes in sports and they know the application fields of various pieces of sports equipment as well as equipment set-ups that aid in improving balance. They become acquainted with the peculiarities of infantile motoric play and with various organisation forms and differentiation possibilities of the integration of movement-oriented topics into school life. Furthermore, they learn about health maintenance and possibilities of health promotion in the context of working out and exercising.

This module includes ecological aspects and historico-cultural backgrounds of movement and sports. We use innovative movement fields and informal learning situations to test self-determined and experience-based learning. The students acquire a first-hand understanding of the backgrounds and topics of recreational sports and trend sports in view of movement science.
Intended learning outcomes
The students acquire essential professional skills in identifying, understanding, classifying and evaluating concepts of experience-based pedagogy. They study facets of (youth-)cultural movement practice and evaluate the importance of self-determined movement for their own movement career. Furthermore, the students acquire professional and methodological competencies in monitoring and supporting self-determined movement learning processes of children and juveniles.

Grundschule as an educational institution in the German school system, implementation forms and tasks of education specific to Grundschule, diagnosis and evaluation of learning processes in Grundschule, pedagogical meaning of starting school and initial tuition regarding the educational development of pupils.
Intended learning outcomes
The students are able to recognise institutional, curricular and pedagogical requirements of compatible education and evaluate their effectiveness (also compared to international standards). They are able to rank Grundschule in the national and international education system as a space for learning and experiencing with its specific task and profiling. They can diagnose learning difficulties and performances and arrange appropriate support measures. They are also able to conceive and evaluate how different possibilities of organising start of school and initial tuition in pedagogical and school-specific respects influence further learning at school.

Discussing primary sources and research literature, this course will convey essentials, methods, and ways of thinking in systematic theology. It will also provide an introduction to theological discussions of, with, and for pupils.
Intended learning outcomes
At the end of the course, students will be familiar with essential concepts and will have developed subject-specific thinking in the area of dogmatics. They will not only be able to comprehend and reproduce theological texts but also to situate them within a context and render them adequately. Students will be able to describe issues in theology for, and together with, pupils as well as to apply their knowledge of systematic theology when they discuss those issues with their pupils.

Concepts of God, the relationship between God and humankind, theological interpretations of history, ethical views expressed in different Old Testament texts and by their authors in their cultural environments with special attention to the Pentateuch and the Prophets. Training in textual analysis methods. Didactic approaches to teaching the Bible to pupils. Exploring Old Testament texts as well as the Bible in general (its structure, origins, etc.) in a manner that is appropriate to the age group students are teaching.
Intended learning outcomes
At the end of the course, students will be familiar with essential concepts and will have developed subject-specific thinking in the area of Old Testament theology. Students will have developed the ability to situate issues within a historical context in a problem-orientated manner. In addition, they will have developed the fundamental abilities to verbally express this knowledge in an appropriate manner. They will be able to understand and interpret the content of the texts and to interrelate them with each other. In addition, students will have developed the ability to simplify Old Testament texts for teaching purposes and assess whether they relate to the everyday lives of their pupils.

An introduction to the theory of teaching topics in religion in the context of the other aspects of religious education. The module provides systematic training in the areas of theology and religious education for future religious education teachers. It focuses on didactic and methodological aspects: teaching and learning in the religious education classroom from an education theory point of view.
Intended learning outcomes
At the end of the course, students will have developed a reflected understanding of phenomena in religion and religious education. They will have developed the ability to recognise the connections between religion and education and take their own position on religious education.

This module equips students with experimental skills and teaches them how to incorporate experiments into their lessons.
Intended learning outcomes
Students have learned some essential experiments for the chemistry classroom in Grundschule and Hauptschule schools and have developed the ability to safely perform them. They have developed the ability to design their own experiments, tailor them to their teaching goals and to incorporate them into their lessons.

In this module, students will acquire fundamental knowledge and skills in the area of biology didactics. The lecture will first discuss general theories in the area of didactics as well as the nature of scientific research. It will then explore central concepts and principles of biology lessons as well as methods in biology and teaching aids. Building on this knowledge, students will learn how to outline problem-based biology lessons. The lecture will also discuss, in the context of a didactic analysis, topics such as modes of interaction in the classroom, teaching methods and approaches or the definition of learning outcomes. Out-of-classroom learning environments as well as topics in biology didactics will also be discussed. The seminar Lehrplan (Curriculum) will equip students with detailed knowledge on how to plan and design classes for Grundschule. Students will prepare didactic analyses on topics from the curriculum. They will discuss general aspects of curriculum theory and, working in small teams, will translate the material to be taught, in a didactically reduced manner, into teaching sequences and lessons. At the same time, students will integrate different teaching methods and modes of interaction in the classroom into their lessons, keeping in mind what is and what is not possible in the respective type of school, will deliver their lessons or parts of these to their fellow students and will assess these with regard to didactic aspects. The module will also provide students both with deeper insights into topics that are relevant for the respective type of school and with an outlook on phase II and III of their training. There will be separate seminars for each type of school; please select the seminar for the school type for which you are pursuing a teaching degree (Grundschule).
Knowledge of the fact that the term "teaching aids in the biology classroom" refers to originals, preparations and media. Familiarity with a biology-specific, didactic definition of the term "media". Overview of different aspects of biology-specific media (encoding, hardware, software, message, sensory modalities). Overview of classifications of media, factors that influence the choice of media as well as the function of media. Familiarity with the limitations and problems associated with the use of media in the classroom. Practical skills using media of all kinds (hardware side). Ability to independently prepare media or preparations. Ability to use teaching aids in classroom situations in a way that is appropriate for pupils and the material taught. Advantages and disadvantages of specific teaching aids; limitations associated with the use of media in the classroom.

[Version 1: A lecture on the biology-specific contents of the curriculum for Hauptschule will equip students with basic knowledge in the areas of cytology, histology, anatomy and physiology. The following topics will be discussed: biological macromolecules, plant and animal cells, distinctive features of plant cells, organelles of the cell and their specific functions, fundamental principles of genetics, organs of the human body and their functions and performance, nervous systems, human sensory organs and how to keep them healthy, human ontogeny, health education, substance abuse prevention, viruses and bacteria as pathogens, fundamental principles of plant physiology (focus: photosynthesis), organs of vascular plants and their variations, tissues of vascular plants and their cellular structures. The exercises on cytology and anatomy will provide students with an insight into the internal anatomy of selected animals and plants. Students will examine plant organs, cutting cross and longitudinal sections. They will work with microscopes and binoculars and will develop experience with typical techniques in biology such as observation and examination. Students will also make drawings of the preparations.] [Version 2: The lecture on the biology-specific contents of the curriculum for Hauptschule will equip students with advanced knowledge in the areas of ecology, systematics and evolutionary theory. The following topics will be discussed: human phylogeny, evolutionary factors, speciation, origins of life, fundamental principles of animal and plant ecology, interactions between organisms, ecosystems and their nutrient cycles, systematics of selected classes of vertebrates (birds, mammals) and plant families, pollination and distribution of plants. With the help of selected examples of species, the exercise will provide students with an insight into the diversity of the indigenous flora and fauna. The course will discuss major families of flowering plants, their characteristics (floral formula, phyllotaxis, leaf shape) as well as criteria for their identification. The section on animal identification will focus on indigenous vertebrates but will also include the identification of several invertebrates. The module will also include field trips to biotopes, zoos/wildlife parks and ecosystems in the vicinity of Würzburg. On these field trips, students will identify animals and plants encountered in the field that are typical for the respective habitats. In addition, they will investigate important aspects on ecosystems as well as the cohabitation of organisms.]

This module provides students with deeper insights into methods and problems in history, with a particular focus on ancient and medieval history. It then moves on to provide an overview of key media and methods for the teaching of topics from ancient and medieval history in the Hauptschule classroom.
Intended learning outcomes
This module provides students with deeper insights into a selected key topic in ancient or medieval history. It familiarises them with relevant research methods and subjects and provides an overview of major sources and accounts. Students develop the ability to use these when they prepare lessons and to adapt these into teaching materials that are suitable for pupils in Hauptschule. They develop the ability to reflect on the challenges and opportunities surrounding the teaching of topics from ancient and medieval history in the Hauptschule classroom and to apply the results of their reflection by planning lessons that are tailored to the needs of their target group. Students develop the ability to select media resources that match their learning goals and to use these in an appropriate manner.

This module provides students with deeper insights into methods and problems in history, with a particular focus on early modern and modern history. It examines the structure and contents of the GSE (History, Social Studies, Geography) curriculum in detail. On the basis of this curriculum, students choose lesson topics and select appropriate teaching methods and approaches.
Intended learning outcomes
This module provides students with deeper insights into a selected key topic in early modern or modern history. It familiarises them with relevant research methods and subjects and provides an overview of major sources and accounts. Students develop the ability to systematically work with the GSE curriculum for Hauptschule and to choose lesson topics on the basis of this curriculum. They develop the ability to simplify topics for teaching purposes and to select appropriate methods to teach these topics. Students develop the ability to define clear learning goals and to teach in ways that help pupils achieve them. They gain a comprehensive overview of important media for the GSE classroom and develop the ability to use these in a flexible and purposeful manner.

Contents
In this module we study central basics of physical education, sports education and sport didactics. We discuss and evaluate basic movement and game forms in the context of education processes. We reflect basic topics of various movement fields in view of movement theories of elementary school didactics.
Intended learning outcomes
The students acquire essential professional skills in identifying, classifying, understanding and evaluating human movement, movement education and movement learning. They are able to demonstrate basic topics of various movement fields in practice and to evaluate these essential movement forms in view of relevant theories of subject didactics and movement education.

Contents
In the seminar "Sport Didactics" we discuss selected aspects of planning classes and of the development of school sports and establish connections to the basic topics of subject didactics. We use examples from various movement fields to transfer this theoretical knowledge to exemplary classes. We plan, conduct and evaluate physical education classes in view of the didactic problem of choosing subjects for physical education.
Intended learning outcomes
The students acquire essential professional skills in reviewing, classifying and evaluating the methodical principles of physical education in a conceptual manner. They become acquainted with the effects of subject-didactic concepts on teaching practice and learn to use these concepts in practice to plan physical education classes and conceptualise school sports programmes. At the same time, they learn to be critical of such planning and evaluating guidelines.

This module is aimed at students who are studying history as vertieft studiertes Fach (subject studied with a focus on the scientific discipline; teaching degree Gymnasium) or Didaktikfach (subject studied with a focus on teaching methodology; teaching degree Grundschule or Hauptschule). It aims to expand and consolidate the knowledge and skills students acquired in the Level Two Module History Didactics (Aufbaumodul Didaktik der Geschichte). A particular focus is on methods for the history classroom and ways to put theoretical considerations into classroom practice. The module also teaches students how to engage in scholarly activity in the discipline of history didactics.
Students gain an in-depth overview of major sub-areas of history didactics and methods in history. They develop a thorough familiarity with the standard references on history didactics and the ability to independently familiarise themselves with a topic in history didactics, using specialised literature. They are able to independently investigate and write on topics in history didactics. They are able to present and discuss their theoretical knowledge and to transfer it into (classroom) practice.
