Contents

This module is designed for advanced undergraduate and graduate students interested in business information systems and international management. It provides a unique combination of business and information technology and focuses on opportunities emerging from an increasingly digitalized and globalized economy in Europe. There will be 14 two-hour classes which present the different topics indicated above. Most of the classes will be typical lectures presented by faculty staff. Some material is also worked out as a case study using business simulation tools or developed as an in-class group assignment. In order to prepare for the exam students have to attend the classes and study extended course material. In case they wish to receive the 5 ECTS credits they are required to prepare a written essay on a specific field covered during the week.

Intended learning outcomes

The lectures will cover different aspects of digitalization, business information systems and information management. Due to their interactive design, lectures provide theoretical and practical insights into tomorrow's important topics, including digital business models, business analytics, information management, and blockchain-based technologies.

Contents
This course introduces students to many relevant subject areas of business administration. Students acquire an overview of the different perspectives and main methodological and empirical methods necessary to analyse the behaviour of business enterprises. The course focuses on what companies or other organisations are, how they behave and in what form they are organised. For this purpose, the focus lies on the organisation of enterprises.

Outline of syllabus
1. What is business administration?
2. Why do organisations exist?
3. Organisational forms
4. Goals, strategies and organisation structures of enterprises
5. Strategic decisions of entrepreneurs
6. From the research questions to causal relationships
7. Empirical research in organisation - some selected examples

Intended learning outcomes
After completing the module, students should be able to describe and understand the organisation of enterprises as part of modern business administration as a scientific discipline. They also should master an appropriate level in the theoretical and empirical problem-solving techniques used on the level of a first grade lecture and tutorium.
